Trostberg, August 5, 2025 – Löw SE has reduced its stake in Alzchem Group AG to 9.9 percent (compared to the previously notified 19.61 percent). In parallel, STALUNA TRADE a.s., which belongs to Czechoslovak Group a.s. (CSG), acquired a 9.2 percent stake in the company.

CSG is an internationally active industrial holding company headquartered in the Czech Republic and doing business particularly in the fields of defense, mobility, chemicals, high-tech and aerospace.

Alzchem is pleased about the expansion of its investor base and welcomes CSG as a new, significant shareholder. The company's strategy and operational focus remain unaffected by the change in ownership structure. The company will continue its dialogue with all shareholders as usual.

About Alzchem

Alzchem is a leading international specialty chemicals company that provides sustainable solutions to global challenges such as climate change, population growth, defense, and increasing life expectancy. With its comprehensive product range, the company is often the market leader in profitable niche markets in diversified industries. It serves sectors such as human and animal nutrition and agriculture, helping to efficiently meet the growing demand for food. Its own pharmaceutical raw materials and creatine products also support healthy aging. Alzchem is also involved in renewable energies and fine chemicals, produces important raw materials for the defense industry, and guarantees a high level of independence and supply security through its "Made in Germany" production.

With around 1,700 employees at four locations in Germany, a plant in Sweden, and three sales companies in the US, China, and England, Alzchem generated sales of €554.2 million and EBITDA of €105.3 million in 2024.
